Volume 103

2022-2023

WELCOME

Welcome to the 103 Volume of Entre Nous. The 2022-23 school year has been action packed. From winning 11 Southern Conference Championships to a revival breaking out on campus, we have walked through a lot as students. This book reflects that. It's not sugarcoated, it's real. As Editor-in-Chief, I struggled on how to complete this book as life happened and Samford's campus went through a lot. My team and I couldn't narrow down what this year meant to Samford's campus, but we did our best. COVID-19 is finally behind us, but the social implications of quarantine were felt and people were tired. I saw it in myself, my staff and my friends, but we made it. We saw revival break out across campus and witnessed as several students came to faith in Jesus. Our Division I athletics programs broke records time-and-time again. We saw Samford become the best in the nation for student engagement. Overall, we saw change. Both positive and negative, but you can't have growth without a little pain.

I hope you find the joy, the celebration and the victory from this year within these pages, but I also hope you don't lose the melancholy feeling of leaving another year behind. For now, I wish you luck as you flip through the pages looking for your friends and yourself, but most importantly, GO BULLDOGS!

BROCK SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

The Brock School of Business offers degrees for both undergraduate and graduate students and has a success record to back up their claim of one-of-a-kind education, with 99% of their students being employed or in grad school within the first six months of graduating. Brock, or BSOB, offers 18 majors, concentrations and minors to undergraduate students through a general education, the Brock Scholars program and Samford Startup, an entrepreneurship program for entrepreneurship majors. Brock also has nine student organizations and honor societies housed under the business school.

"I think the education we provide to our accounting majors rivals that of the best universities in the country," said Accounting Department Chair Alan Blankley. "This is borne out by the very strong demand to hire our students upon graduation and our students' CPA exam pass rates. We can't offer the breadth of course offerings a larger school can offer because we are not a large department, but we excel in providing students the foundation they need to succeed in accounting and business."

Brock emphasizes the importance of internships no matter the students course of study, and allows students opportunities to gain real-world experience through in-class presentations and pitches.

COLLEGE OF HEALTH PROFESSIONS

The School of Health Professions is housed in the College of Health Sciences and offers both graduate and undergraduate programs in four departments. The Communication Sciences and Disorders, Kinesiology, Physician Assistant Studies and Physical Therapy departments are home to over 750 students and is founded on the principal found in 1 Peter 4:10, "Each of you should use whatever gift you have received to serve others." The School of Health Professions promotes Christian leadership within its students and prepares them to perform their job well. This is seen in the school's 100% employment rate for Doctor of Physical Therapy students within six months of graduating and its 93% acceptance rate for students applying to graduate and professional schools.

The School of Health Professions was established in 2013 and, according to their website, strives to "prepare leaders in a Christian environment who promote health, wellness and quality of life through excellence in professionalism, scholarship and service."

HOWARD COLLEGE OF ARTS & SCIENCES

Howard College of Arts and Sciences offers a wide variety of majors within three academic programs - Humanities, Behavioral & Social Sciences and Science, Technology, Engineering & Mathematics (STEM). With 13 departments and over 40 majors and concentrations, Howard and its professors strive to provide students with an education rooted in Christian thought and practice while inspiring students to seek after more knowledge within the liberal arts discipline. Popular majors include Journalism and Mass Communication, Biology and Law, Politics & Society/Political Science.

"Political Science offers a practical and academic experience for our students, setting them up for success for their post-collegiate careers," said Political Science department chair Lee Trepanier. "We accomplish this by offering interesting and topical classes as well as exciting opportunities in our political and legal internships, Model UN program and other such activities. As a warm and welcoming department, we offer an individualized and custom-tailored education to all of our students."

Howard as a whole strives to be a welcoming place for all students pursuing degrees in the humanities and sciences. Howard College of Arts and Sciences is the largest school on Samford's campus.

MCWHORTER SCHOOL OF PHARMACY

The McWhorter School of Pharmacy offers a unique program that provides students with the opportunity to earn their Doctor of Pharmacy in six years through their fast-track option. "The Department of Pharmacy Practice is made up of 24 faculty members. Since we are such a large department and we have varying areas of expertise and teaching," said department chair Marshall Cates. "We, the faculty members, are committed to helping our students' become pharmacists who transform lives. Our teaching, scholarship and service activities are student-centered and our connection with students is founded on our Christian faith, sense of supportive community, and desire for meaningful professional relationships."

"The Department of Pharmaceutical, Social and Administrative Sciences provide the foundational components of our students' education in the professional curriculum such as physiology and pathophysiology, cellular and molecular biochemistry, drug delivery systems, pharmacology, pharmacokinetics, medicinal chemistry, patient care systems, sterile compounding, financial and human resource management, pharmacy law, and ethics," said department chair Howard Hendrickson.

"Research interests in the PSAS department are varied and involve areas such as the study of apoptosis, mitochondrial injury, pharmacogenomics, drug metabolism and drug-drug interactions, structure- activity relationships and determinations, pharmacokinetic studies, ophthalmologic considerations in drug delivery, educational research, home health care, end-of-life care, and moral development. In addition, several PSAS faculty provide research and experiential education for our students."

Samford's School of Public Health was founded in 2013 and is home to over 300 students throughout four departments: Healthcare Administration and Informatics, Nutrition and Dietetics, Public Health and Social Work. Students are taught from a Christian foundation where their faith is incorporated into classroom discussions and are guided through faculty mentors to become "compassionate and service-minded leaders" in the world of healthcare. Each of the four departments offer many career paths to choose from at the end of student's Samford career. Nutrition and Dietetics Department chair Suresh Matthews said, "I believe that Samford's Nutrition program offers an outstanding academic preparation that combines high quality classroom education with practicum and internship experiences, preparing students to become competent practitioners and leaders in their professions." This can be said of all four departments within the School of Public Health as faculty members "prepare servant leaders through student-focused, workforce-oriented education by demonstrating God's love through nurturing the emotional, intellectual, physical and spiritual health of individuals and communities," according to their website.

ORLEAN BEESON SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

Samford University's Orlean Beeson School of Education, commonly referred to as OBB, prepares students with the skills to go out and teach the next generation. OBB houses three departments – Human Development and Family Science (HDFS), Teacher Education and the Educational Leadership graduate program. Students learn how to be teachers for early, secondary and special education, with a concentration of Christian Education and Missions available to all. The School of Education has a 100% Pass Rate on National Undergraduate Praxis Licensure Exams and creates compassionate teachers by sending students out into the Birmingham and Homewood communities to get hands-on experience during their undergraduate years. HDFS Department chair Kristie Chandler said, “because several service learning and practicum experiences are built into the curriculum, our students feel well prepared for the many opportunities that real-life challenges hold for them.” OBB challenges students to pursue their calling in education and pushes them to begin making a difference in the world today.

MOFFETT & SANDERS SCHOOL OF NURSING

Moffett and Sanders School of Nursing is one of the oldest and prestigious in the state of Alabama, celebrating its Centennial this past year. The school was also named a Center of Excellence in Nursing Education last year by the National League of Nursing.

"The Moffett & Sanders school of nursing is 100 years old! We offer a rigorous baccalaureate nursing education that is based on both the art and science of nursing. Over 5 semesters students learn to provide holistic, compassionate care to all persons," said chair Cindy Berry. "During student's 900+ clinical hours, they walk beside patients and families during times of joy and times of deep sorrow. Each student completes clinical rotations in a variety of settings including hospitals, clinics, schools, and community settings. We have over 7,000 alumni who work all over the world in a variety of settings."

The hard work of the nursing school professors and students is seen in the accolades accumulated by the school, with 100% of graduates passing the National Certification Exam in 2020 and a 96% employment rate prior to graduation.

SCHOOL OF THE ARTS

The School of the Arts offers students an opportunity to dive deeper into five disciplines, including Architecture & Interior Design, Art & Design, Christian Ministry, Music and Theatre & Dance. Students are also provided the opportunity to showcase the skills they have learned in class through performances that go towards their graduation requirements, whether it be participating in a play put on by the school or an individual performance.

THE GRAND OPENING OF BUCHANAN

Article by: Will Mason

Samford Announced in 2018 that Buchanan Hall, which has been home to Samford SOA since 1958, would begin renovations in May 2019, which later was pushed back to the Spring of 2021 due to the pandemic.

While the building served the needs of the program, signs of change needed to happen with musty practice rooms, and old displays and chalkboards. When the building officially closed for renovations in 2021, The school had to operate many of its classes and practice rooms in Dwight M. & Lucille S. Beeson Alumni Center and Dwight Beeson Hall during the 21/22 school year. It was a rough year for all of SOA who had to move all around campus to practice, meet professors, and even hang out with their peers, however, the students' patience was worth it.

The building was officially opened on September 1st, 2022, with the ribbon cutting done by President Taylor and the Board of Trustees.

The wait was worth it, with newly modernized classrooms willed with new projectors and whiteboards. Clean practice rooms that had a TV in every room with each room being key card access, and a student lounge that has become a hub for students to rest and hang out. The building has been a massive success and will hopefully be able to last the next several decades, teaching the next generation of Musicians.

JAZZ BAND

Article by: Will Mason

The Samford Jazz Band is one of the premier ensembles here at Samford University. Led by Dr. Grant Dalton, the Jazz band is a small ensemble consisting of 18 members. The ensemble had two concerts, one each semester, as well as playing for various Samford Events and high schools. They played works such as, "Duke of Iron" by Sonny Rollins and "Napali" by Ryan Loud which combined the Jazz Band and Percussion Ensemble.

Sophomore drummer, Matt Rattray, said "Being a part of the Jazz band has been one of my favorite groups to be a part of at Samford. This year was especially fun with all of our extremely challenging and fun music."

The Jazz band met three times per week in the afternoons where they jammed out. During these rehearsals, not only do the members practice their music, but they also learn various styles and techniques from Dr. Dalton who has led the ensemble for more than 10 years. One of the School of the Arts' most entertaining groups, the Jazz Band never fails to entertain an audience.

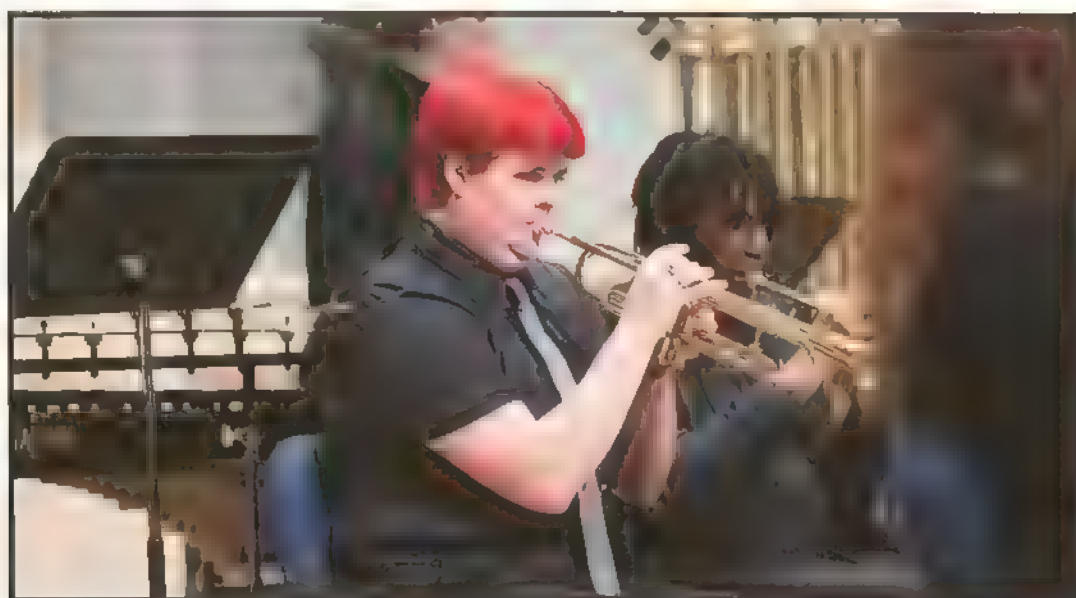

WIND ENSEMBLE

When the Marching Band was not playing for the Football team, the Wind Ensemble met in the spring to provide an opportunity for the members of the Samford Marching Band to continue to play. Led by Mr. Jon Bubbet, the interim band director and graduate assistant Lexi Dishroon, the large ensemble performed two concerts as well as ran a conducting symposium in April. The group played notable works such as First Suite in E-Flat by Holst and Acadiana by Ticheli which was a program song about Hurricane Katrina hitting New Orleans.

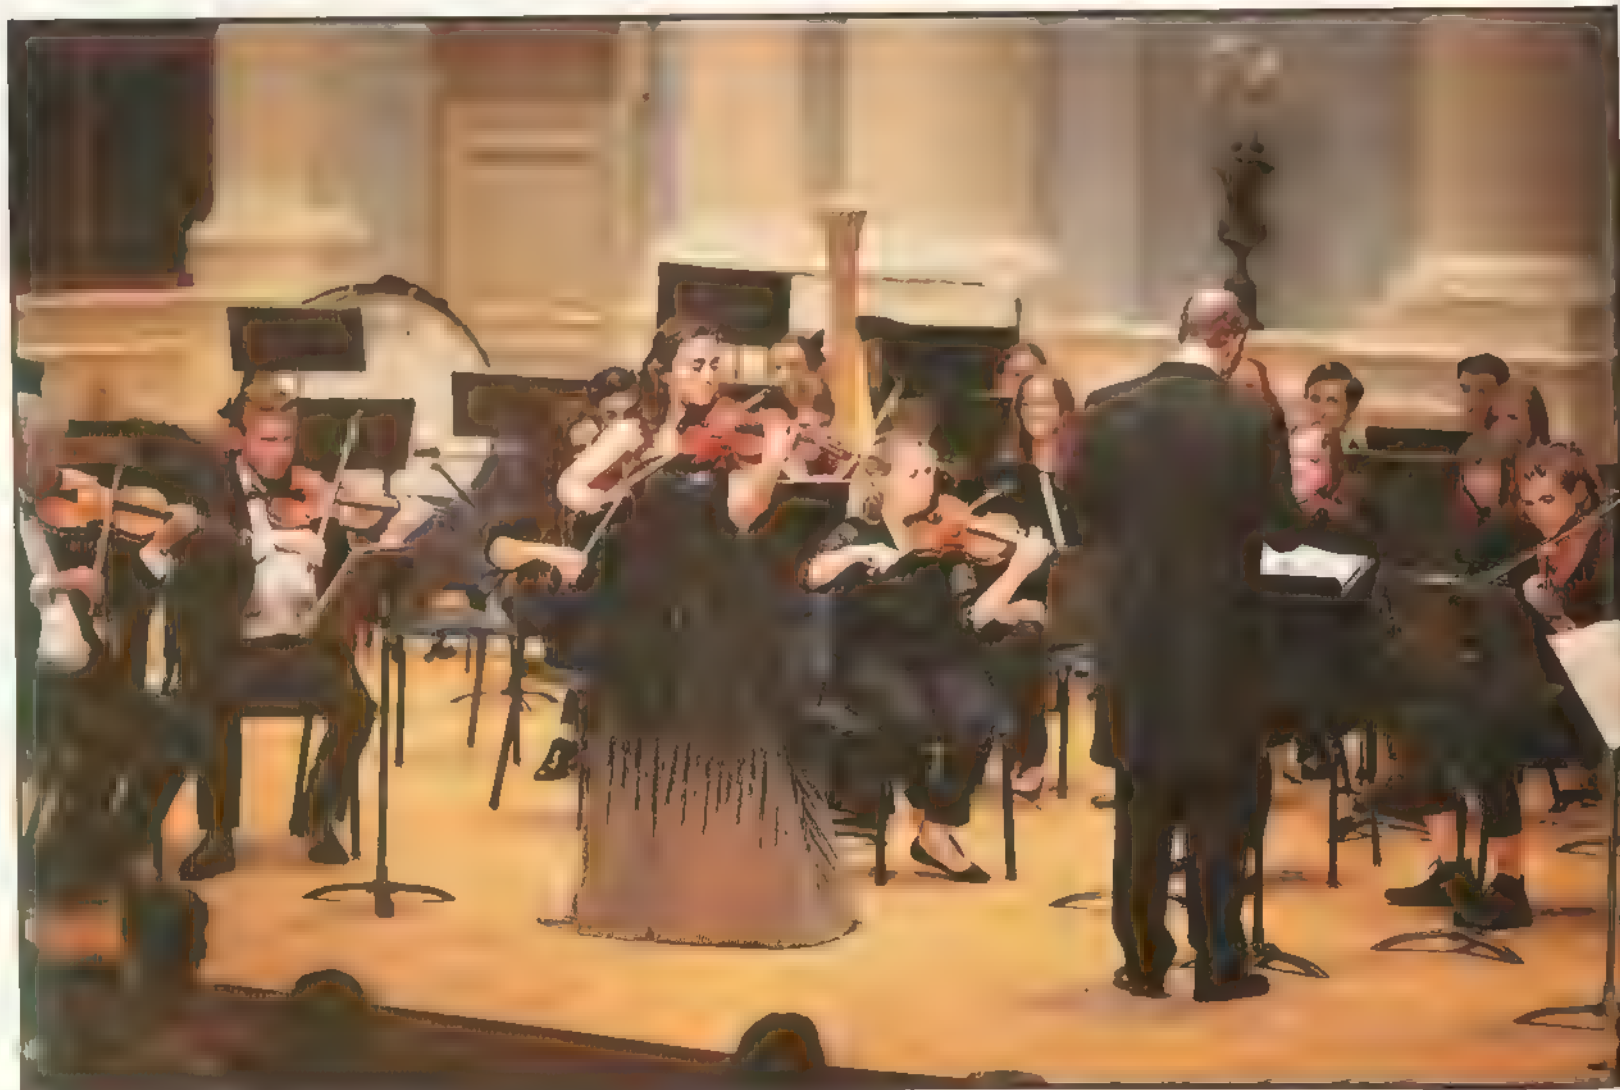

ORCHESTRA

The Samford Orchestra is a unique entity here at Samford, as it is one of the few groups that are combined with students in the area. With UAB and Samford's students predominantly making the numbers for the group, the Orchestra performed several times throughout the year including both its performances and performing in operas and other theatrical works. Conductor Dr. Brain Viliunas leads the ensemble of around 50 members that consists of both students and professors who are passionate about the orchestral arts. Senior violinist Lydia Moore said "I've been a part of the orchestra since my freshman year, and it has been a constant that I can always count on to brighten up my week. Making music with others is a special gift (and so is playing in Brock Recital Hall)." Each year, SOA holds a Concerto competition for the performers, and the winners for the 2022/2023 school year were Junior violinist Rebekah Willard and graduate student pianist Zac Wang who performed their concertos on April 4th.

CHAMBER ENSEMBLE

Article by: Will Mason

Photos Courtesy of: School of the Arts

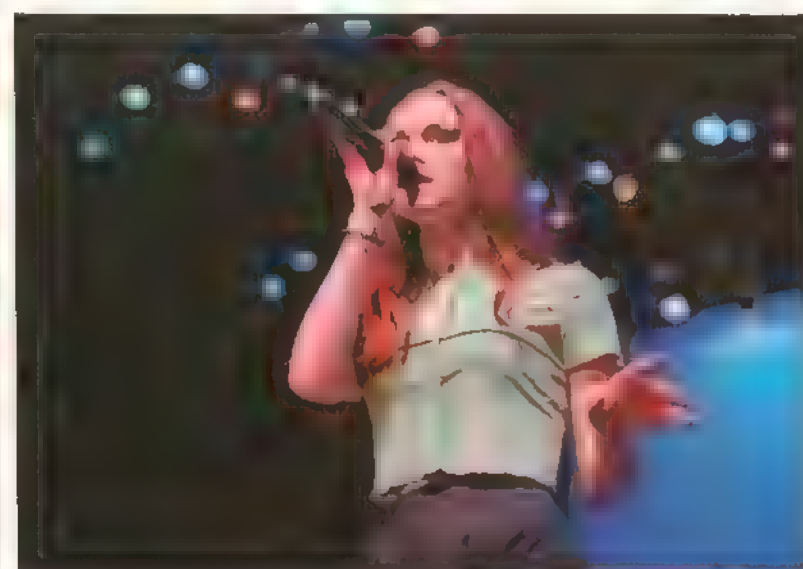

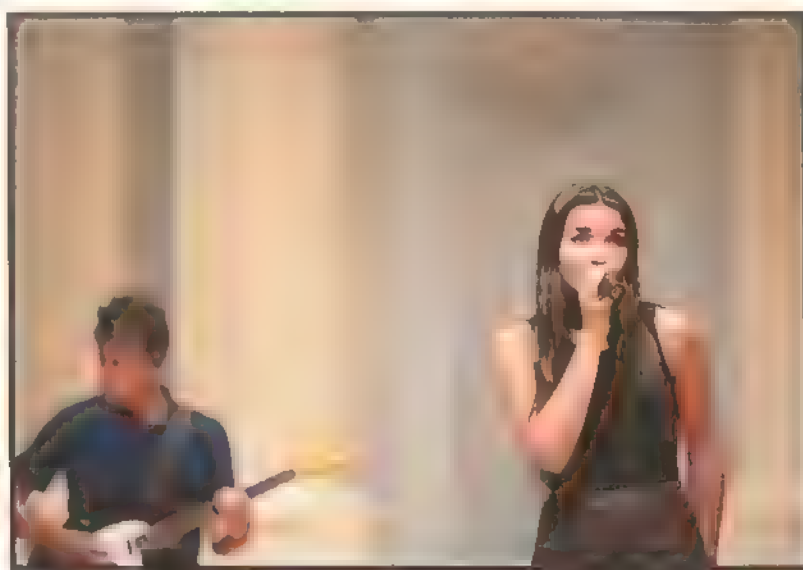

Samford School of the Arts provides many opportunities for students to perform in small and large ensembles. However, one of the students' favorite performance opportunities is through the various chamber ensembles that already pre-exist or are created by the students. Each semester, the SOA hosts a chamber ensemble concert to provide an opportunity for all of the groups to perform. A few groups, such as the Percussion Ensemble and the Brass Ensemble, hold their performances and occasionally perform outside of Samford, with the Percussion Ensemble taking their piece "Omphalo Centric Lecture" by Nigel Westlake to the Percussion Arts Society International Conference to compete in competition. The Chamber Ensembles are an opportunity for students to work together in their groups to bring the best out of each other.

The Worship Arts Ensemble is a blend of both traditional choir music and modern worship music. It consists of both vocalists and instrumentalists who are led by Jonathan Rogers who stated to the SOA, "I'm excited that we can get out to do ministry with these students and represent Samford in the name of Christ". The ensemble leads several student worship nights throughout the year as well as traveling to many different local Birmingham churches to lead Sunday worship. The group is rooted in faith as they spread the word of God at Samford and the community around them.

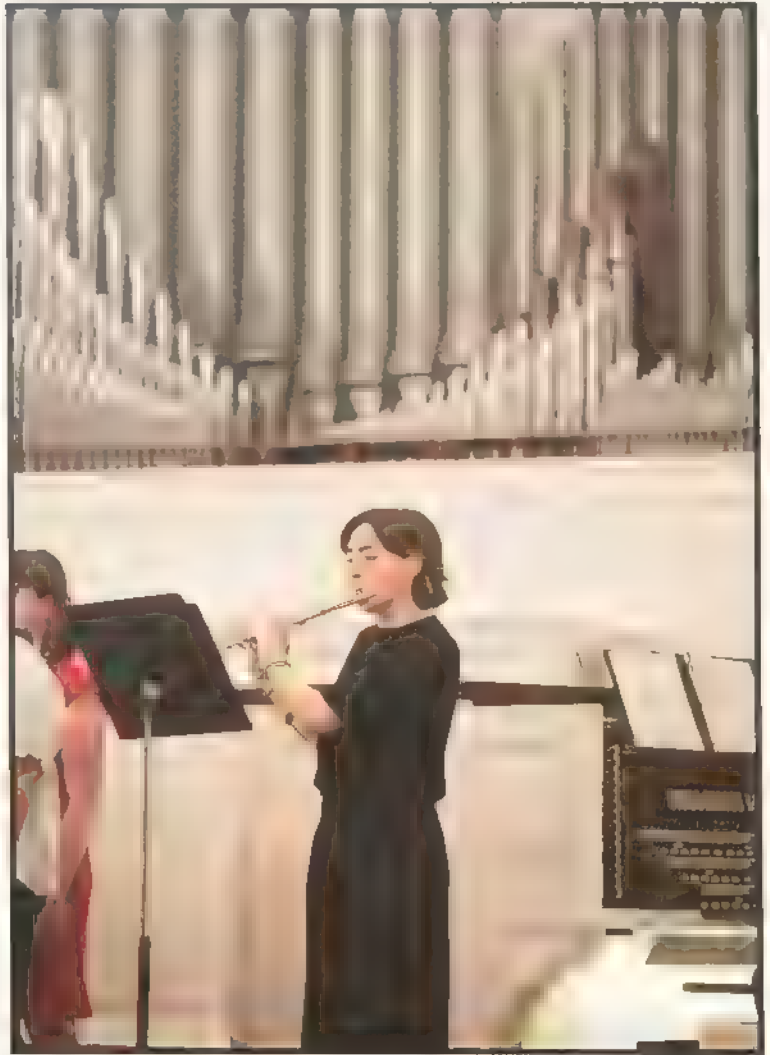

UNIVERSITY CHORAL

Article by: Will Mason

University Choral was open to all students at Samford, as it was a non-audition-required ensemble that performed year-round. With music students and non-music students alike, UC performed concerts in both the fall and spring semesters, while taking part in the annual tradition of Hanging of the Green which was attended by most of the university.

ACAPELLA

A Cappella is an internationally renowned ensemble that has performed in Poland, Paris, and other places around the world. The 36-member ensemble is an audition-required group that rigorously practices all year, performing in various concerts and events around Samford as well as various competitions.

This year the group had the opportunity to travel to the Netherlands and Belgium in the Summer of 2023. One of the premier ensembles here on campus, A Cappella is surrounded by tradition and history that keep alumni and future students coming back.

ORPHIE AND THE BOOK OF HEROS

Article by: Will Mason

“Orphie and the Book of Heroes” was the 22-23 theatre for youth production, a part of the “Emma Taylor for Youth Series”. Directed by Laura Byland, the show was a tale of mythos and legend, following a young girl named Orphie, played by Kate Ortiz, who traveled to save her teacher Homer from Hades. While on the journey, she encountered various heroes and villains who helped her develop her tale and become a hero herself. This song and dance production was filled with fun and laughter.

MR. BURNS

"Mr. Burns; A Post-Electric Play", depicted a post-apocalyptic world where the power grid goes out permanently, and people looked to the past and think about their favorite TV shows, particularly the Simpsons. Set in three different acts with different stories, the productions mixed comedy with despair and even terror. Directed by Prof. Mark Castle, who stated in the playbook, "This show is about telling stories. How we tell them and who we tell them to." While there was bad weather causing the show to go indoors, the opening night had the entire production outdoors creating an immersive experience.

THE BIRDS

"The Birds" from the short story by Daphne du Maurier depicted the aftermath of a collapsed society in a dystopian world. It followed four main characters who found each other seeking to survive in the bleak world they find themselves in. Directed by Prof. Don Sandley, he states in the program notes that the show asks questions of "Who can we trust?" and "When is it too hard to press ahead?" The bleak story had various mature themes, it shared hard depictions and emotional moments that are felt by both the cast and the audience.

Amahl and the Night Visitors was part of Dr. Chandler and Jane Paris Smith Opera Series and sponsored by Elouise Williams. This collaboration between the vocal, orchestral, and theatrical areas was directed by Prof. Kristin Kenning. She stated in the director's note from the program, "So often, it is the hustle and bustle of our daily lives that take our attention away from where it should be focused at this time of year." With three different casts staging December 1st-4th, the production shared the story of a crippled child meeting the three kings following the star. This story of hope and wonder was the perfect way to begin thinking about the Christmas season.

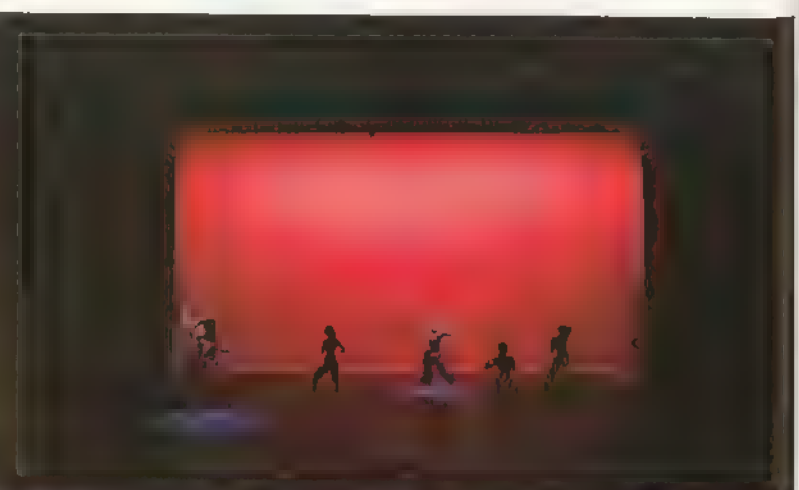

MASTERPIECES

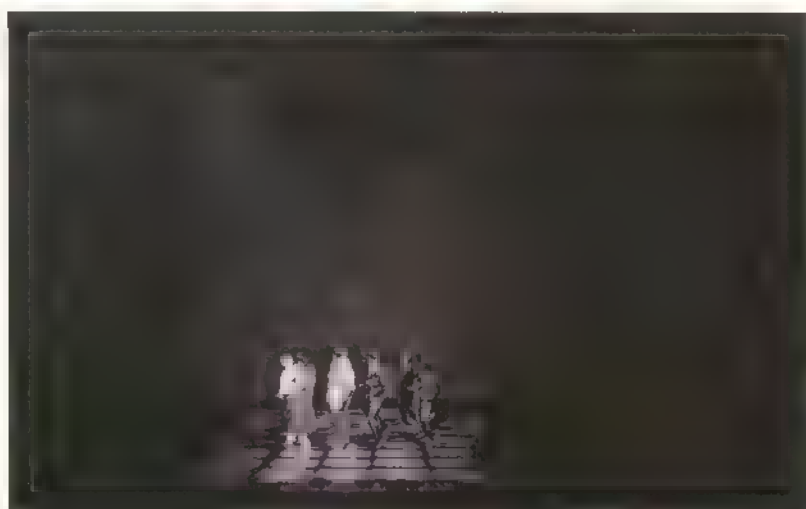

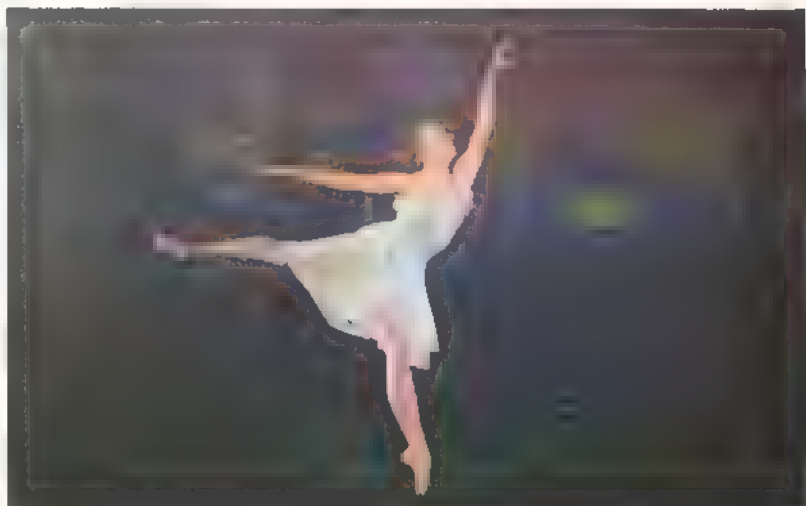

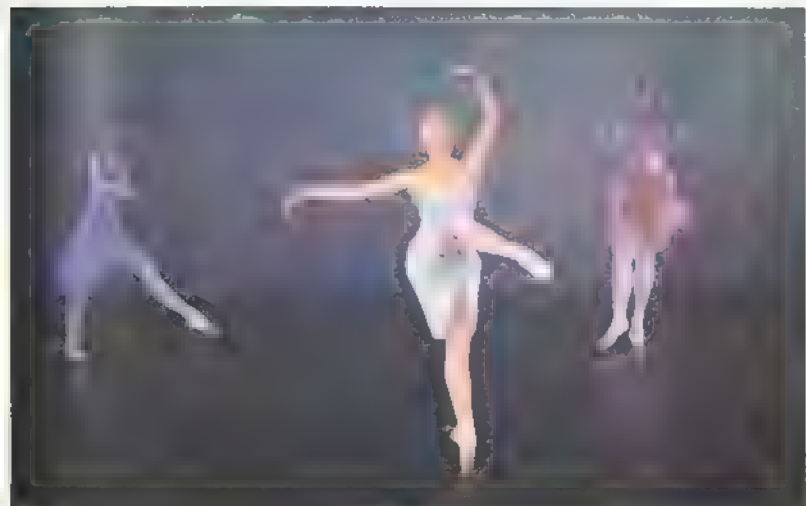

SAMFORD DANCE COMPANY

Article by: Will Mason

The Samford Dance Company performs one dance concert each year and on February 9-12th, they performed "Masterpieces". With 26 dancers and 13 different "masterpieces", the company performed at Harrison Theatre and is part of the "Michael J. and Mary Anne Freeman Theatre and Dance Series. Each dancer comes from a different part of campus and comes together to share their art and talent. Sophomore Emma Kelly, talked about how working with the dance company was "one of the single experiences of my Samford career so far." All of the members and faculty put in "hard work" and created fun experience that was "exciting and fun when doing it with the most supportive and encouraging classmates and faculty." The concert was mixed with both self-choreographed and instructor choreographed with some works being done by the students themselves with "Breath" and "Lift Your Eyes" and others such as "Voluntary Madness" and "Divine Light" done by faculty.

LIFE

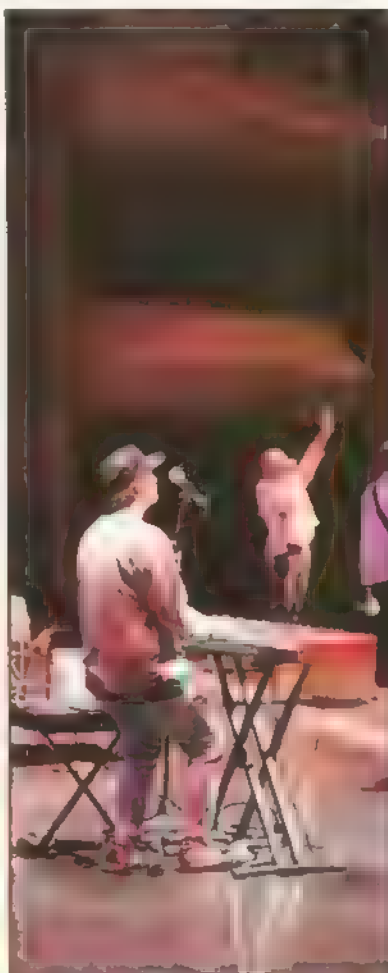

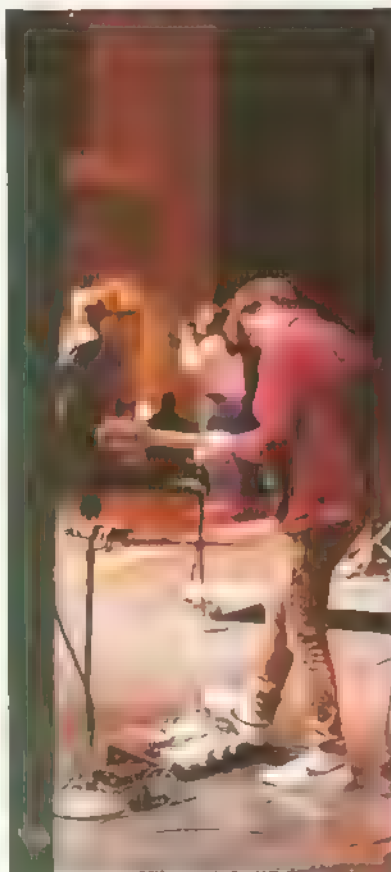

AGAIN AND AGAIN

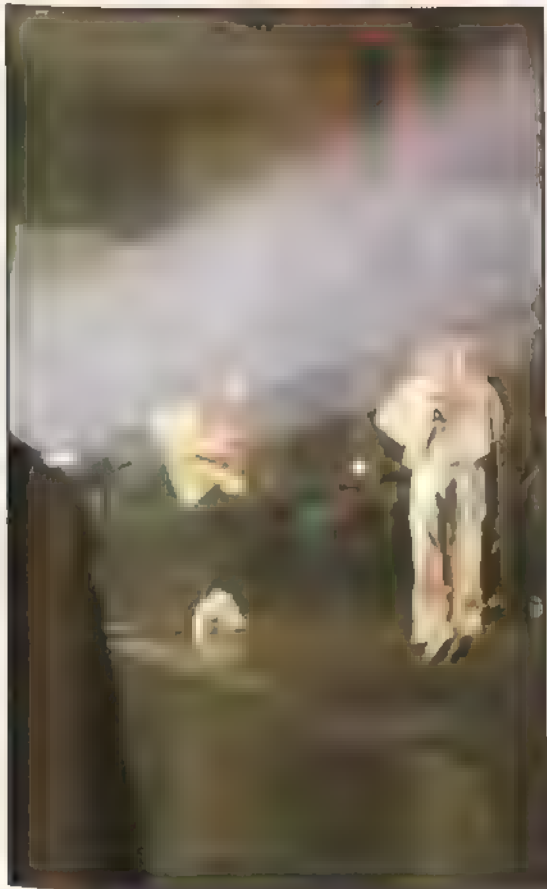

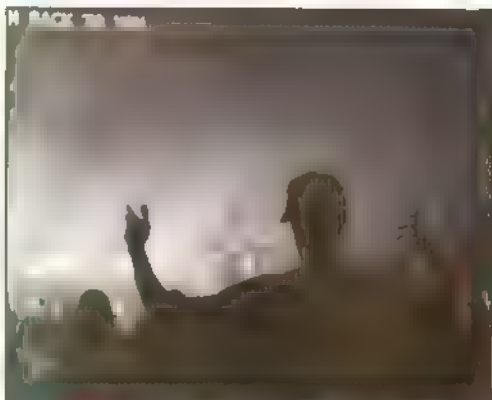

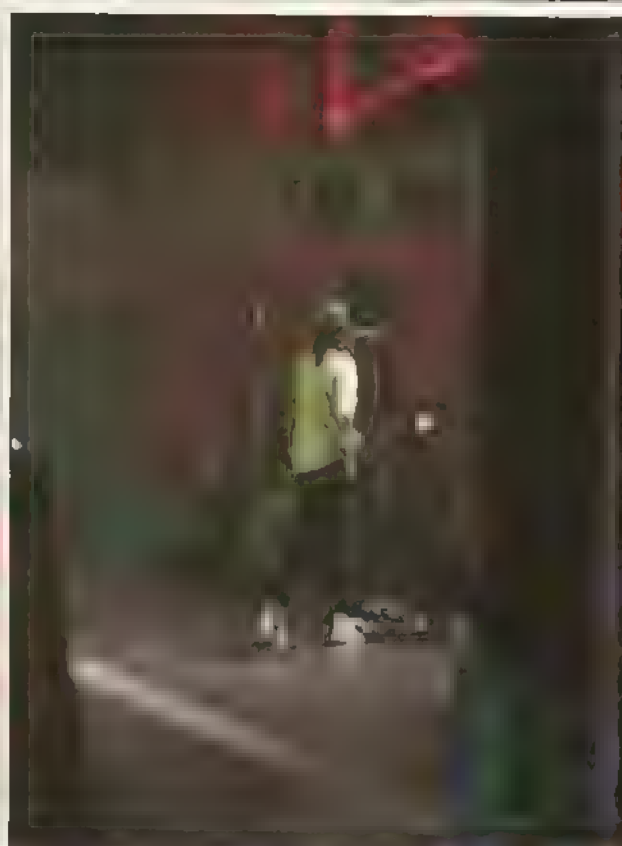

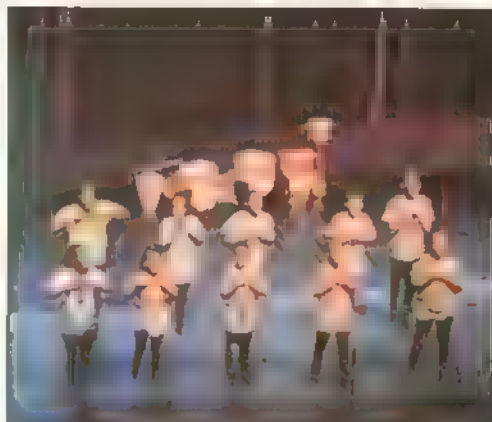

THE OFFICE OF SPIRITUAL LIFE

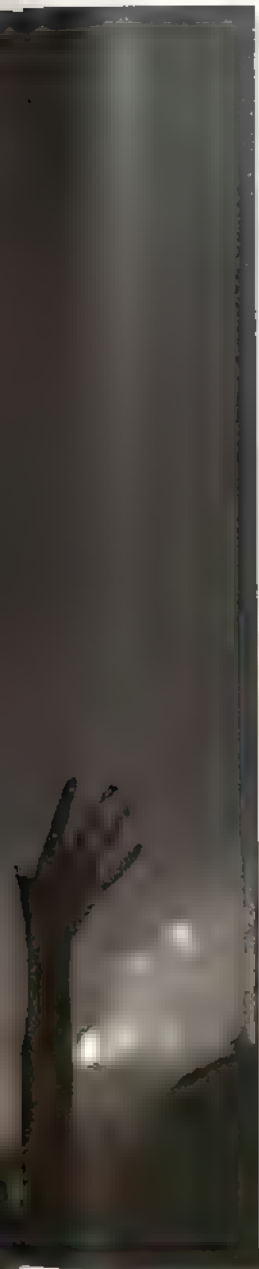

The Office of Spiritual Life creates and facilitates several opportunities for students of all grade levels to deepen their relationships with Christ throughout the year, creating a campus environment that points back to Jesus. The Office of Spiritual Life, or the OSL, does this through their Freshman Retreat at the end of the first week of classes every fall semester. This retreat brings together the new freshman as well as upperclassmen as leaders. The OSL also hosts freshman-only small groups every fall to help freshman plug-in on campus, as well as small groups for all students in the spring semester. Campus Worship is also held most Tuesdays during Convo Hour as a time of worship and to study of God's word, which is also seen during Samford United and worship nights throughout the school year. Convocation credit events across campus also add to every student's time at Samford, and range from Passion Worship performing to a lecture on mental health to hosting the non-profit organization Sozo Children for a day. Overall, the Office of Spiritual Life tries to encourage each student to seek after Jesus, no matter what their major is or future looks like, and creates an environment across campus of hospitality and mentorship, which starts in their physical office and spreads outwards.

GREEK LIFE

Greek Life on Samford's campus makes up roughly half of the student population. There are currently 14 active Greek organization's stemming from three governing councils: College Panhellenic, National Pan-Hellenic Council (NPHC) and Interfraternity Council (IFC). Each organization strives to hold members accountable and encourage growth in members' faith and leadership opportunities. Each fraternity and sorority also host a multitude of events, both separately and in collaboration, throughout the year for their members as well as the Samford student population. Greek Life values service, scholarship, Brotherhood/Sisterhood and personal development, and each chapter exemplifies these in their everyday activities. Samford will be colonizing a chapter of the Kappa Delta sorority in the fall of 2023 and the Alpha Phi Alpha Tau Iota Chapter will also have members back on campus in the fall.

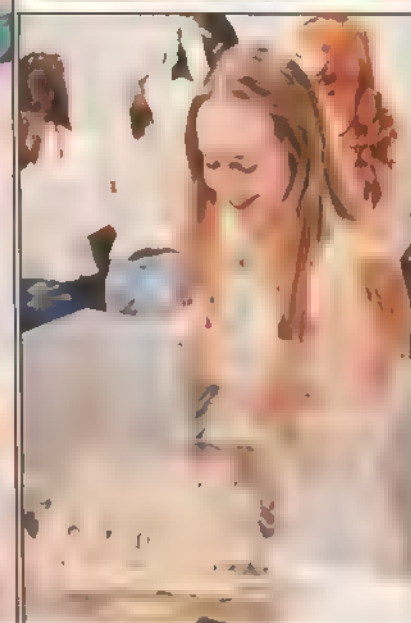

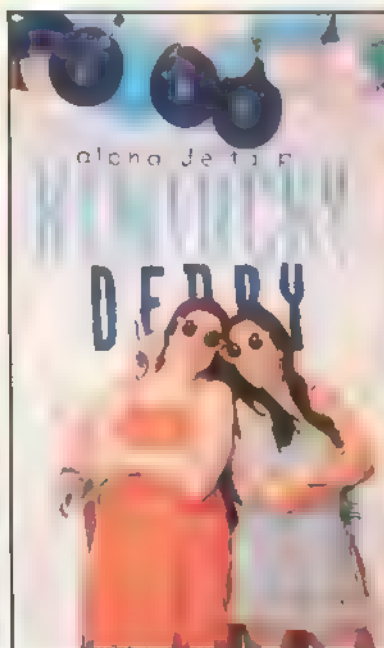

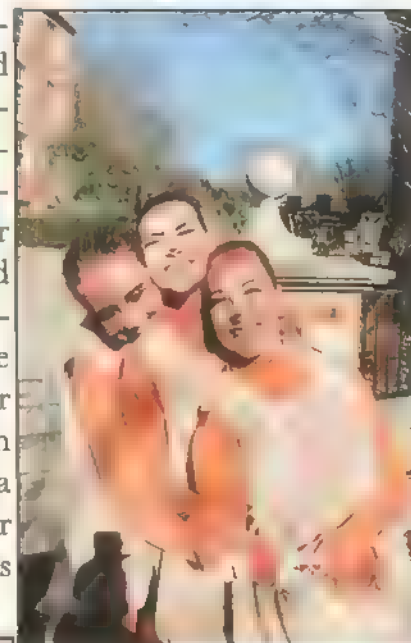

ALPHA DELTA PI

Alpha Delta Pi Kappa Chapter is a member of the College Panhellenic Council and was colonized in 1910. "Alpha Delta Pi is a sisterhood promoting leadership, service to others, and growth," said chapter president Riann Laux. "Our chapter is a highly involved organization all over campus and beyond. Many of our sisters serve as SRTs, Orientation Leaders, Ambassadors and more! It is our privilege to support Ronald McDonald House Charities in Birmingham. We love serving meals in their house and hanging with the kids there! Alpha Delta Pi's motto is 'We live for each other and we live this day in and day out." The Kappa Chapter has won the Golden Lion Award, the most prestigious award an ADPi chapter can receive, 17 times. Through their partnership with the Ronald McDonald House, the Kappa Chapter serves meals, bakes cookies and fundraises, specifically through their silent auction - A Night For Ronald and their 5k run -- Run for Ronald. Alpha Delta Pi was founded at Wesleyan College in Macon, Georgia in 1851 and is commonly referred to as ADPi.

ALPHA KAPPA ALPHA SORORITY INCORPORATED

Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Incorporated Omicron Mu Chapter is a member of the National Pan- Hellenic Council and was colonized in 1988. "Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc. Is the oldest Greek letter sorority among African American college women," said chapter president Mya Ramsey. "We were founded January 15, 1908, at Howard University in Washington, D.C. The Omicron Mu chapter was chartered on May 14, 1988, here at Samford University, so this year marks our 35th anniversary. Although Alpha Kappa Alpha has a worldwide membership of over 320,000, we are a small but mighty chapter and strive to live out our sorority's mission statement of 'Service to all Mankind.'" Alpha Kappa Alpha is commonly referred to as A.K.A.

ALPHA OMICRON ΠΙ

Alpha Omicron Pi Rho Delta Chapter is a member of the College Panhellenic Council and was colonized in 1995. "Alpha Omicron Pi is rooted in character, dignity, scholarship, and college loyalty," said chapter president Lane Henderson. "The Rho Delta Chapter is proud to support the Arthritis Foundation in our philanthropic efforts. By hosting events like "Strike Out Arthritis" and Bingo Night, we donate thousands of dollars each year to fund research to find a cure for an often-invisible disease. Though our sisters each use their unique gifts in all different parts of campus, we are all bonded by the ties of our sisterhood." Alpha Omicron Pi was founded at Barnard College of Columbia University in New York and is commonly referred to as AOPi.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

Alpha Tau Omega Kappa Rho Chapter is a member of the Interfraternity Council and was colonized in 2014. "Alpha Tau Omega is more than an organization – it's an opportunity," said chapter president David Sputh. "Being a brother of ATO allows you to be part of something much bigger than yourself while forming lifelong friendships. Since 1865, Alpha Tau Omega has provided amazing opportunities to its members. More than 200,000 men have become ATOs and taken advantage of an experience that is like nothing else. As America's College Man Development Fraternity, ATO provides a great opportunity for young men looking for a unique fraternity experience and the chance to grow as a leader. The Samford Chapter of ATO is somewhere where all brothers feel welcomed and can find a place. Our chapter excels at promoting growth and leadership in all its members. As well as promoting member growth, we also give back to the community, Samford and otherwise, through our service hour opportunities and philanthropic efforts." Some of these efforts include volunteering at Huffman elementary and middle schools and partnering with Family Promise to raise money through their first Scary Face Race and Family Promise Festival. Alpha Tau Omega was founded in order to help repair the tear between the North and South caused by the Civil War in 1865 and is commonly referred to as ATO.

BETA THETA PI

was once called 'hasty and ill-advised.' Since their re-establishment in the autumn of 2022, they've fit right in; creating connections between men on campus, brightening days, and raising money for a local charity, Firehouse Missions."

CHI OMEGA

Chi Omega Zeta Zeta Chapter is a member of the College Panhellenic Council and was colonized in 1963. "Chi Omega was founded on six purposes: friendship, high standards of personnel, sincere learning and creditable scholarship, career development, participation in campus activities and community service," said chapter president Grace Davis. "Blessed to be a part of this organization on Samford's campus now for three years, I have seen the women of our chapter strive to uphold these purposes. The women of Chi-O at Samford are not only the truest of friends, but also women who call those around them to a higher standard. We are represented in other organizations across our campus including the Samford Recruitment Team, Samford Ambassadors, both Fellows Programs and so many more. It is a small testament to the commitment of these women the seriousness of how they view campus involvement. Being a Chi Omega has been a blessing to me in more ways than I can express, but the women within it are truly what make it the incredible chapter it is. They make me better every day, but also point me to pursue Christ in all I do." Chi Omega partners with Make-a-Wish Foundation through two philanthropy weeks a year and was founded in 1895 at the University of Arkansas.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

Delta Delta Delta Epsilon Xi Chapter is a member of the College Panhellenic Council and was colonized in 2016. "The Epsilon Xi Chapter of Delta Delta Delta at Samford University aims to uphold our purpose and the values of both our organization and out college campus while being Kind Alike to All," said chapter president Mary Grace Milligan. "We value truth, self-sacrifice and friendship and we as Tri Delta women seek to employ these values in and out of the classroom. Our chapter finds importance in connecting with philanthropic partners on the local level to have the opportunity to see the true fruits and benefits of tangible service. Epsilon Xi proudly supports Smile-A-Mile, local to Birmingham, along with St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in Memphis, Tenn. Along with our desire for service, our values of truth, self-sacrifice, and friendship are what create a strong and lasting bond within our sisterhood. Here at Tri Delta, we don't want you to come here and be like us, we want you to come here and be like you." Delta Delta Delta was founded in 1888 at Boston University and is commonly referred to as Tri Delta or Tri Delt.

DELTA SIGMA THETA SORORITY INCORPORATED

Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Incorporated Sigma Eta Chapter is a member of the National Pan-Hellenic Council and was colonized in 1995. "Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Incorporated was founded on January 13, 1913, by 22 illustrious women on the campus of Howard University with a focus on sisterhood, scholarship and service," said chapter president

Bruena Lewis. "The Sigma Eta Chapter was chartered on March 18, 1995, on the campus of Samford University and has won numerous awards over the past few years for work towards the Sorority's focus. For the past few years, we have hosted insightful events about Economic Development, Educational Development, International Awareness and Involvement, Physical and Mental Health and Political Awareness and Involvement, which are the thrusts of our National Sorority supports. We have also awarded a scholarship to a minority student who has shown great community service every year for the past few years." Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Incorporated is commonly referred to as DST.

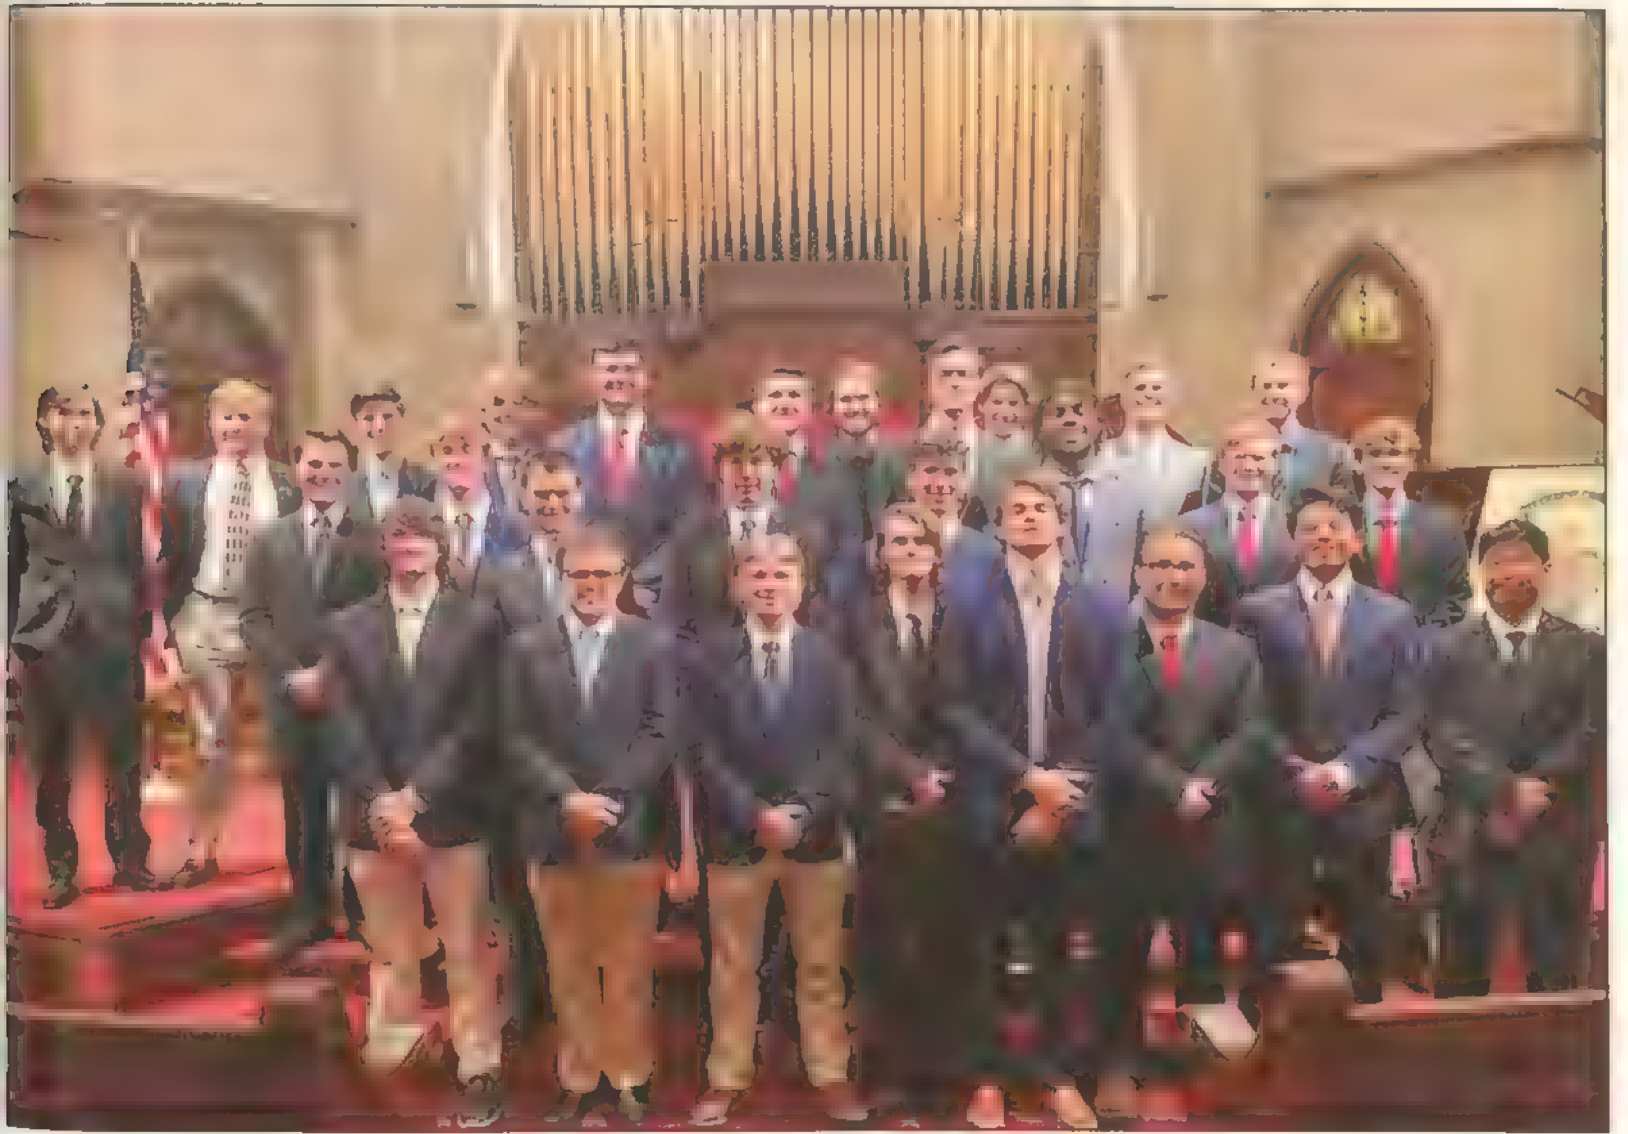

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

Lambda Chi Alpha Theta Alpha Chapter is a member of the Interfraternity Council and was colonized in 1939. "We're the men of Lambda Chi," said social chair Joe Williams. "Since our charter in 1935, the Theta Alpha Chapter has been building up Samford men under the pillars of brotherhood, morality, and trust. Our members strive to contribute to the Samford community every day as we continue to grow as one of Samford's most historic fraternities." Lambda Chi Alpha was founded in 1909 at Boston University, but Samford's chapter has gone through many variations before becoming the chapter found on campus today. Lambda Chi Alpha has an annual national food drive and is commonly referred to as Lambda Chi.

PHI MU

Phi Mu Alpha Gamma Chapter is a member of the Panhellenic Council and was colonized in 1924. "Phi Mu Alpha Gamma is a Greek organization on campus that works to create an environment of community, friendship, and support for the women in the chapter," said chapter president Erin Carland. "We have the honor of supporting two philan-

Network Hospital and the second is Compassion International. We support these organizations through different fundraising events and have even been able to visit our local Children's Hospital in Birmingham. We also put on fun social events for the women of our chapter to enjoy, as well as events specifically for our girls to get to know each other better and form deeper relationships. Overall, everything we do at Phi Mu is about forming deeper friendships, serving one another, and having fun together!" Phi Mu was founded in 1852 at Wesleyan College.

PI KAPPA PHI

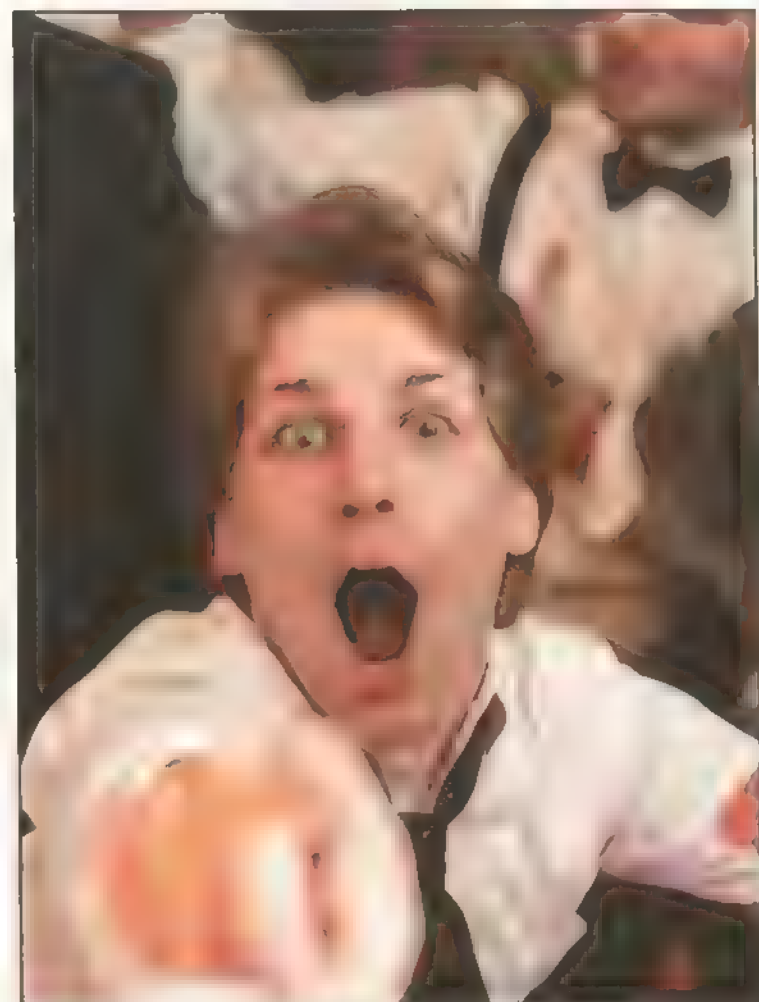

Pi Kappa Phi Alpha Eta Chapter is a member of the Interfraternity Council and was colonized in 1925. "Our mission at Pi Kapp here at Samford is to be an organization that builds up exceptional leaders and men, on and off campus," said chapter president Joe Waters. "We are incredibly passionate about recruiting and being a group of young men who represents our values – common loyalty, personal responsibility, accountability, campus involvement, responsible citizenship, and lifelong commitment – lead by example, and hold each other to a high standard that is evident to those around us. Although we are heavily involved with our philanthropy, are constantly striving to attain the highest possible standard of scholarship, and are tremendously involved with various alumni, we particularly pride ourselves on our exceptional campus involvement.

This past year alone, Pi Kapp had 20 brothers, the most of any fraternity, selected to be involved with Connections Weekend to begin the fall semester – 17/50 total male leaders and 3/5 Connections Coordinators, 15 brothers currently serving on Student Recruitment Team, four brothers that serve as Samford Ambassadors, one brother who was selected to be an orientation leader and more brothers who are involved with SGA, Student Activities Council, the Sports Administration Association, Samford Sports Analytics, the Samford Marching Band and more. We feel very honored to have many of our members in these leadership roles. We believe that them being chosen for these positions is a true testament to their servant-hearts, deep love for Samford, and ability to represent the university in a Christ-like way.

"Overall, we are a group of guys who love Samford, love one another, love having fun and are most passionate about being a group of men who hold each other to the highest standards possible, striving to lead by example wherever we may go."

Pi Kappa Alpha was founded in 1904 at the College of Charleston and partners with The Ability Experience through different philanthropic events throughout the year. Pi Kappa Alpha is commonly referred to as Pi Kapp.

SIGMA CHI

Sigma Chi Pi Chapter is a member of the Interfraternity Council and was colonized in 1872. "One thing about this chapter that I love is the culture we have built," said chapter president Tripp Greene. "We have a strong combination of Godly men that know how to lead through their words and actions. I want to continue to grow this culture and put an emphasis on what we truly care about and that is walking with the Lord. I can't think of any better way to lead this chapter than to point out brothers to Christ." Sigma Chi was founded in 1855 at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio. Sigma Chi Pi partners with the Huntsman Cancer Institute and raises money for the institute through their annual Derby Days where the Samford Sororities compete in different challenges such as a fun run and a field day.

SIGMA NU

Sigma Nu Iota is a member of the Interfraternity Council and was colonized in 1879. "Sigma Nu is a group of men dedicated to pushing each other to be the best versions of ourselves," said chapter president Charlie Newton. "We care about developing leaders all while growing as brothers. Out genuine relationships and care for others is our identity as a fraternity. Sigma Nu is dedicated to helping the community and growing internally as men. We are proud of how we have grown in the last few years and are excited for the future." Sigma Nu was founded in 1869 at Virginia Military Institute in Lexington, Virginia during the Reconstruction period. The Iota chapter is the oldest continuous fraternity on Samford's campus and the longest continuously standing Sigma Nu charter in the nation. Sigma Nu Iota partners with multiple organizations across the city through their annual Good Deed Day. This year, the brothers served with the Exceptional Foundation, the Humane Society, Jones Valley Teaching Farm and the Firehouse Homeless Shelter.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

Zeta Tau Alpha Delta Psi is a member of the College Panhellenic Council and was colonized in 1965. "The Delta Psi chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha strives to make our members and community feel seen through deep connections, service, and love for one another," said chapter president Savannah Woodland. "The women of Delta Psi challenge one another to be the best versions of themselves. As president, I am lucky to serve with the Executive Council as we faithfully serve the members of Delta Psi with humble hearts. It is the greatest honor to watch a sisterhood unite under genuine desire to care for one another through boundless love." Zeta Tau Alpha partners with Breast Cancer Education and Awareness. Zeta Tau Alpha was founded in 1898 at Virginia State Female Normal School, now Longwood University, in Farmville, Virginia. Zeta Tau Alpha is commonly referred to as Zeta on campus.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

The Student Government Association represents and promotes student interest in the decision-making process of Samford University by cultivating and maintaining leadership among students. SGA also develops, coordinates, and executes activities and services for the benefit of the students.

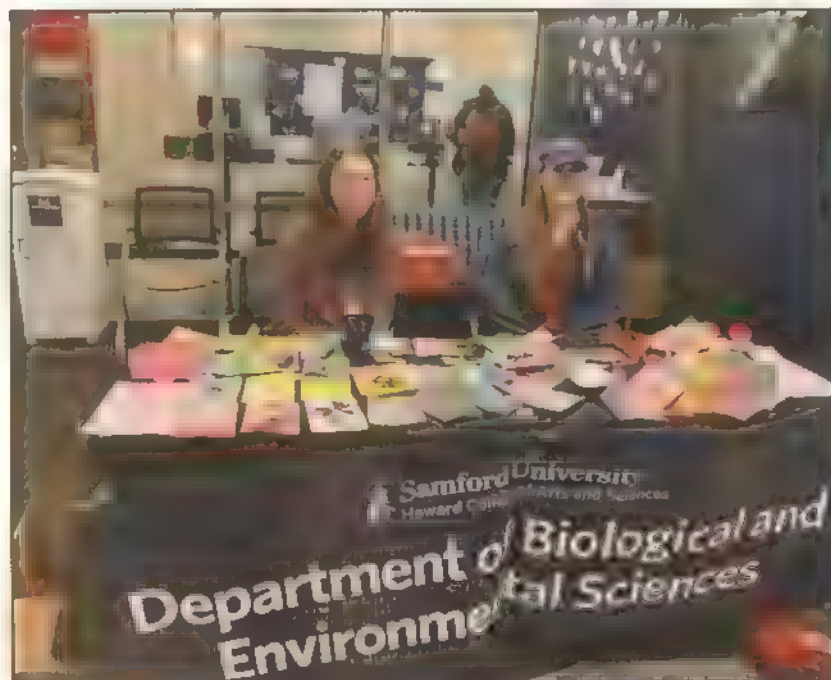

Some popular events SGA is known for include Welcome Back Week, Homecoming Week, Lighting of the Way and the Harry's Coffeehouse concert series.

SGA is organized into four branches that provide a wide range of opportunities for student involvement. Each one of the branches is presided over by a member of the Student Executive Board (SEB).

The mission of SGA is centered around students. By empowering others and fostering academic and spiritual achievement, SGA seeks to provide a community for every Samford student.

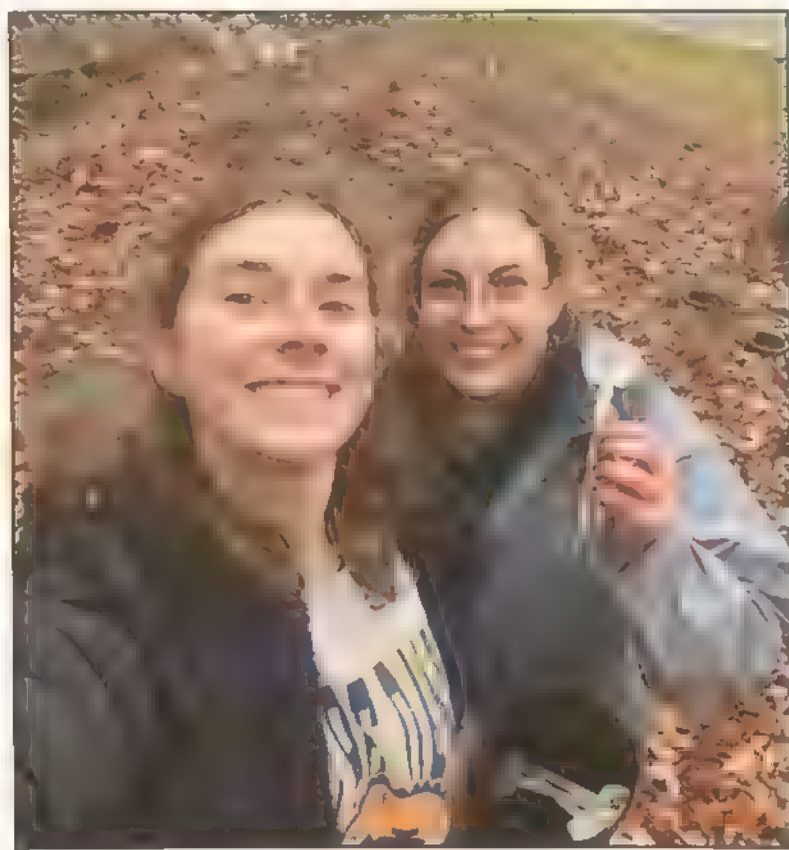

BETA BETA BETA

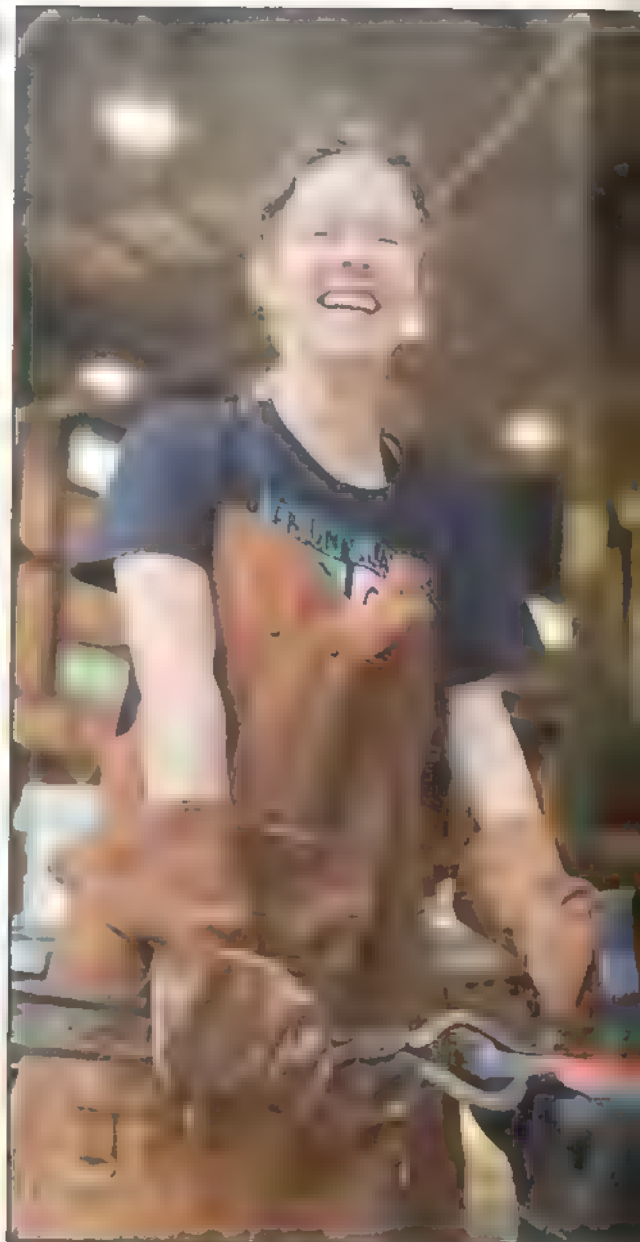

Beta Beta Beta Biological Honor Society is a society for students who desire to cultivate intellectual interest in the natural sciences. Tri-Beta seeks to promote a better appreciation of the value of biological study and thus welcomes all students who are interested in biology, regardless of field of study.

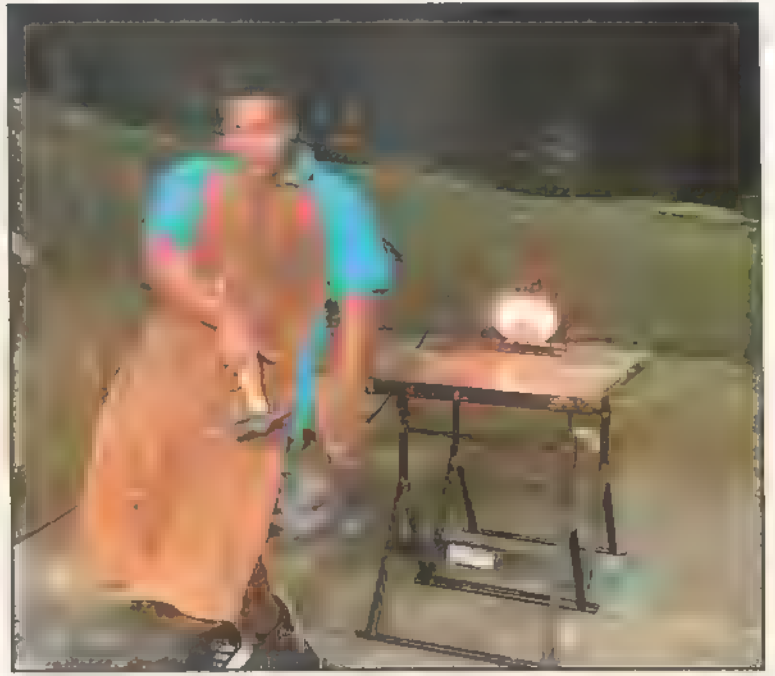

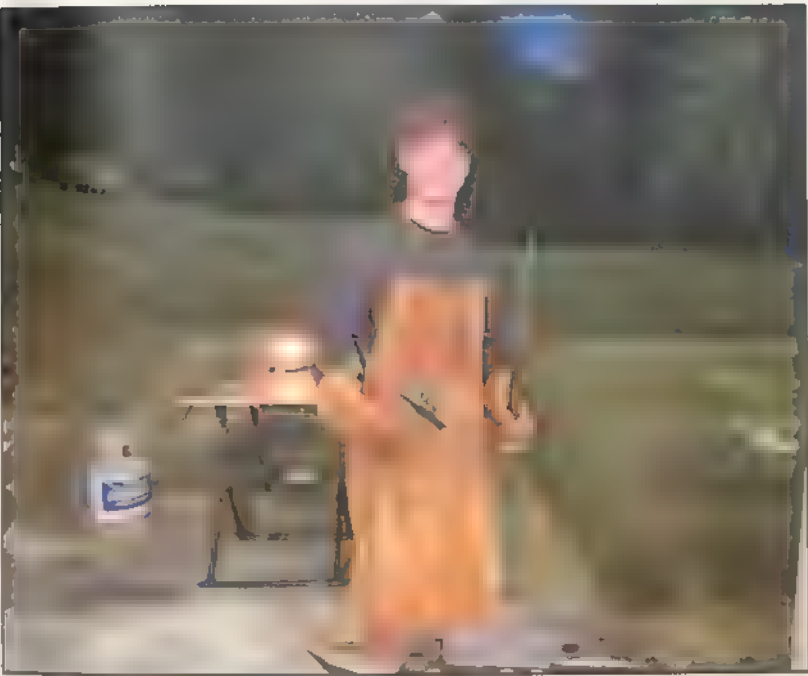

Beta Beta Beta organizes academic, fundraising, social and service events each semester to bring the Biological and Environmental Sciences Department together and to form connections with the rest of campus.

BLACKSMITHING CLUB

The Samford Blacksmith's purpose is to promote and practice the preservation of the historical art of blacksmithing. We gather to learn techniques of metalworking, to create works of art that are both beautiful and functional, and to have fellowship with each other. Everyone is welcome, regardless of level of prior experience. If you can think of it, we'll work together to learn how to make it.

INTERNATIONAL JUSTICE MISSION

"Samford IJM is a chapter of justice seekers that support the largest anti-human trafficking organization, International Justice Mission," said president Allison Middendorf. "Together, we are making a difference to rescue and resotre survivors of trafficking and making justice unstoppable. Our events are centered around lifting up the issue of human trafficking to God, fundraising to support the mission of IJM, and spreading awareness about human trafficking on Samford's campus."

This past semester, we held a prayer-centered event called Christianity & Justice that sought to facilitate a conversation about the role of Christians in the fight for justice. We gathered in fellowship and together talked about how the two are inherently interwoven. In the Fall of 2022, we held out annual pop-up shop, Threads, where we raised $850 in one day to fight against human trafficking. Last fall, we also held an advocacy event, Justice Panel, with three professional women who are actively engaged in the fight against trafficking and exploitation, sharing how we as college students can also be active participants in the fight for justice. We are incredibly grateful for our members and their passion for justice, and we hope to continue growing our message on campus."

INDUSTRY PHARMACIST ORGANIZATION

IPhO helps pharmacists focused on industry to fully leverage the value of their academic and experiential training to advance their professional careers. Student members are recognized as the best prepared among all student pharmacists to pursue pharmaceutical industry career opportunities. Members have an excellent working knowledge of common industry roles and key pharmaceutical industry driving forces, as well as an understanding of the skills and experiences necessary to become a successful industry pharmacist. IPhO works with its members to advocate for advancing industry-based pharmacists to leadership positions by increasing awareness and recognition among employers, senior management, colleagues, thought leaders, educators, and students of what pharmacists have to offer.

The student chapter is dedicated to enhancing understanding of the pharmaceutical industry by: raising awareness of the roles that pharmacists play in drug development, appropriate medication use, and other aspects of industry; creating opportunities for student pharmacists to connect with industry pharmacists; providing opportunities to participate in industry-focused scholarly activity; collaborating with IPhO National to create and distribute resources and materials that are targeted to student pharmacists; working with IPhO National and local pharmacy school faculty/administration to promote access to internship and other experiential opportunities.

Samford University
McWhorter School of Pharmacy

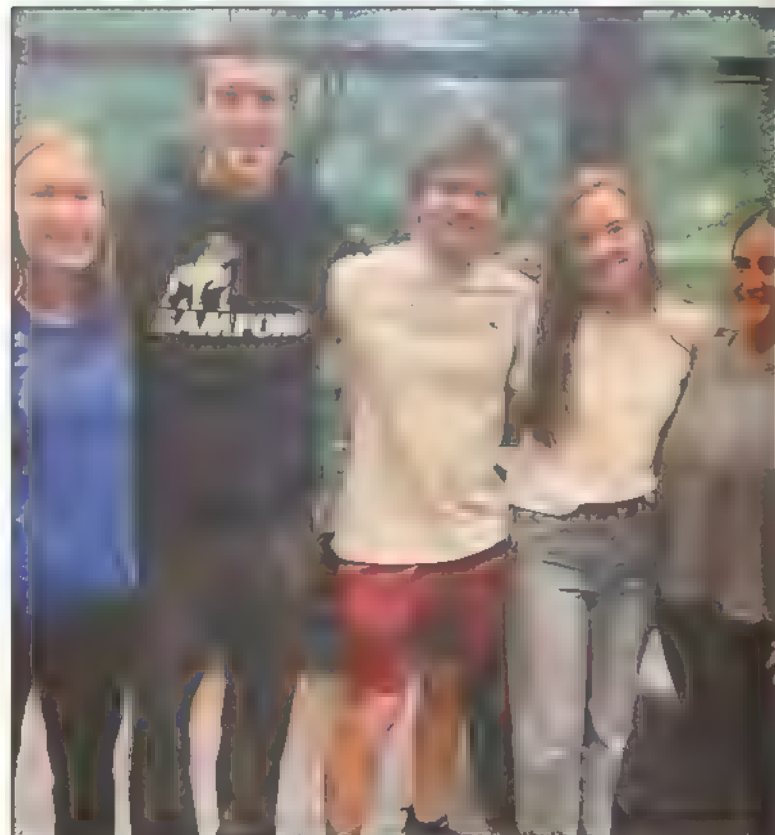

ISPOR is the professional society for pharmacoeconomics and health outcomes research and is the leading source for scientific conferences, peer-reviewed and MEDLINE-indexed publications, good practices guidance, education, collaboration, and tools/resource in the health economics and outcomes research field. ISPOR believes that every healthcare decision should be informed by the best scientific research derived from rigorous, proven methodologies. The mission of ISPOR is "to promote health economics and outcomes research excellence to improve decision making for health globally."

ISPOR is a nonprofit organization that welcomes all healthcare stakeholders as members, including researchers, academicians, regulators and assessors, public and private payers, healthcare providers, industry and patient representatives. The student chapter of ISPOR at Samford University is a graduate student organization of the McWhorter School of Pharmacy. Membership in the student chapter is open to all pharmacy students.

INTERNATIONAL SOCIETY FOR PHARMACOECONOMICS AND OUTCOME RESEARCH

SOCIETY OF KINESIOLOGY

The Society of Kinesiology "is for students entering the health and fitness fields following graduation and aims to provide students with a supportive environment that prepares them for life after graduation by forming networks amongst peers, alumni, and current professionals, opening up opportunities for students to further their education," said vice president, Megan Barnes.

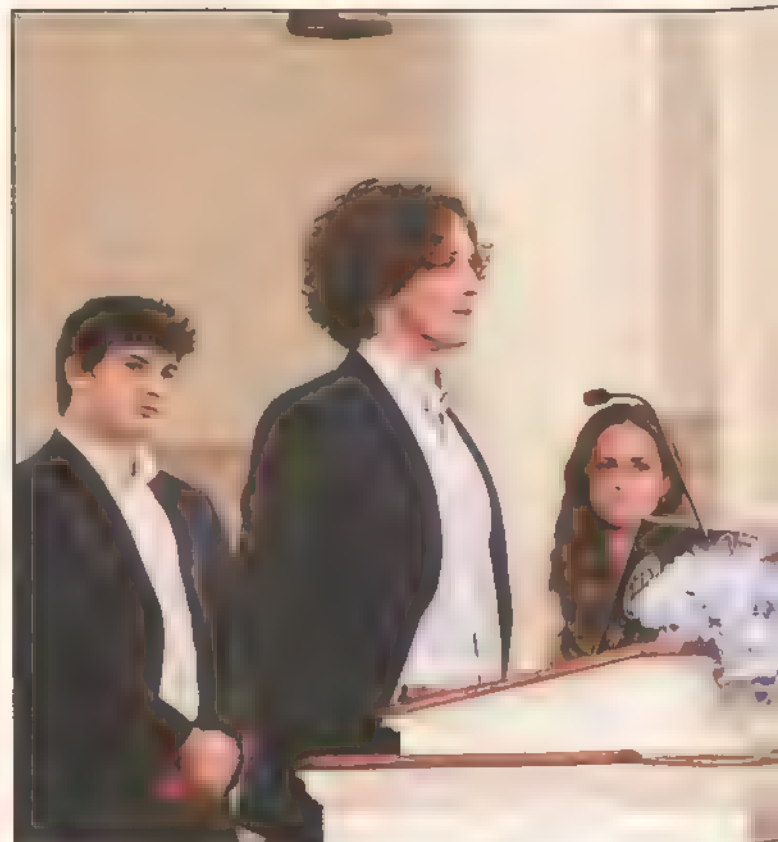

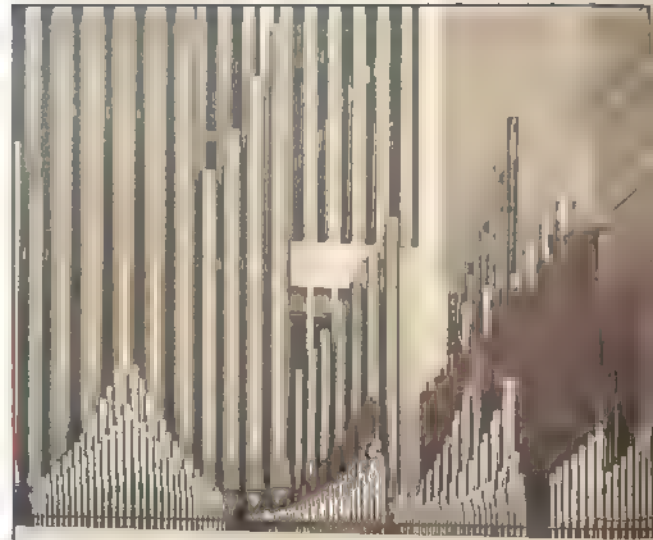

"We host events such as student and professor panels, informative talks on subjects ranging from graduate school applications, MCAT and GRE preparation, and interviews. We also host our biannual cornhole tournament which students and professors participate in."

UPSILON PHI DELTA HONOR SOCIETY

The purpose of Upsilon Phi Delta Honor Society shall be to recognize, reward, and encourage academic excellence in the study of healthcare management and policy. Membership shall be open to all undergraduate and graduate students majoring in Healthcare Administration at Samford.

Undergraduate members must have a cumulative GPA of 3.25 on a 4.0 major scale in Healthcare Administration, after having declared a healthcare administration major and having completed at least 18 credit hours in the major. Graduate members must have a cumulative GPA of 3.5 based on at least 18 hours of graduate work in the MHA program.

STUDENT DIETETIC ASSOCIATION

Samford's Student Dietetic Association (SDA) is a unique organization where nutrition students serve Samford's campus, our local community, grow in character and teamwork, and develop professional skills within the field of nutrition and dietetics. SDA gives nutrition students the opportunity to network, serve through volunteer opportunities, and continually build upon our nutrition foundation academically and professionally. SDA has volunteered at the Food Bank, fed the homeless through Grace's Kitchen, blessed senior citizens with Easter care packages at chosen senior citizen facilities, and hosted many homemade jam and cookie sales at Samford. On campus, SDA has nutritionally helped our Samford football team with protein muffins and smoothies and has helped teach at Wellness Kitchen Cooking Classes each Thursday. Making a difference in people's lives and being the hands and feet of Jesus both on campus and in our Birmingham community is SDA's mission.

KAPPA PSI PHARMACEUTICAL FRATERNITY

Kappa Psi Pharmaceutical Fraternity is the oldest and largest pharmacy with a mission to develop leaders with a passion for service to their community while creating lifelong professional connections. We have hosted many fundraising events on campus in the College of Health Sciences building that consists of annual bake sales, blood drives, DEA drug take-back day, and an apothecary ball for pharmacy students on campus.

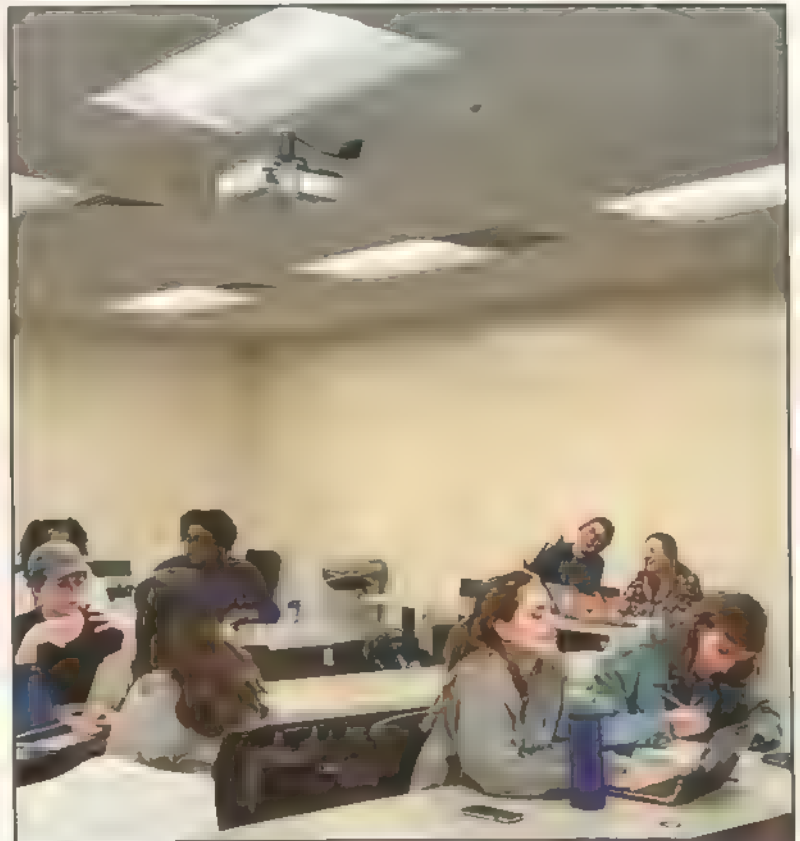

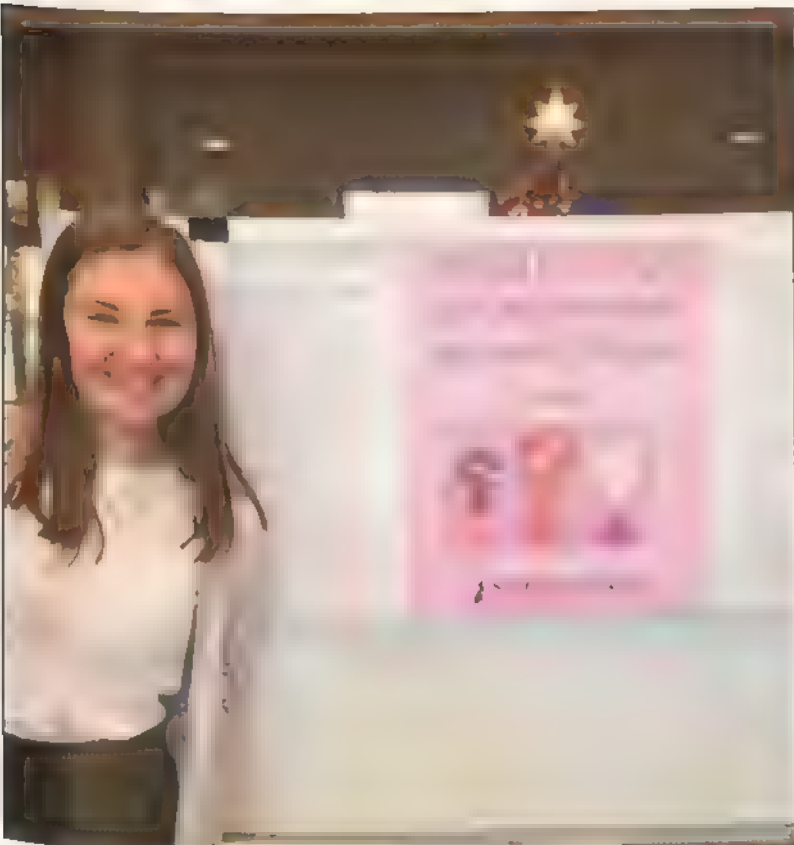

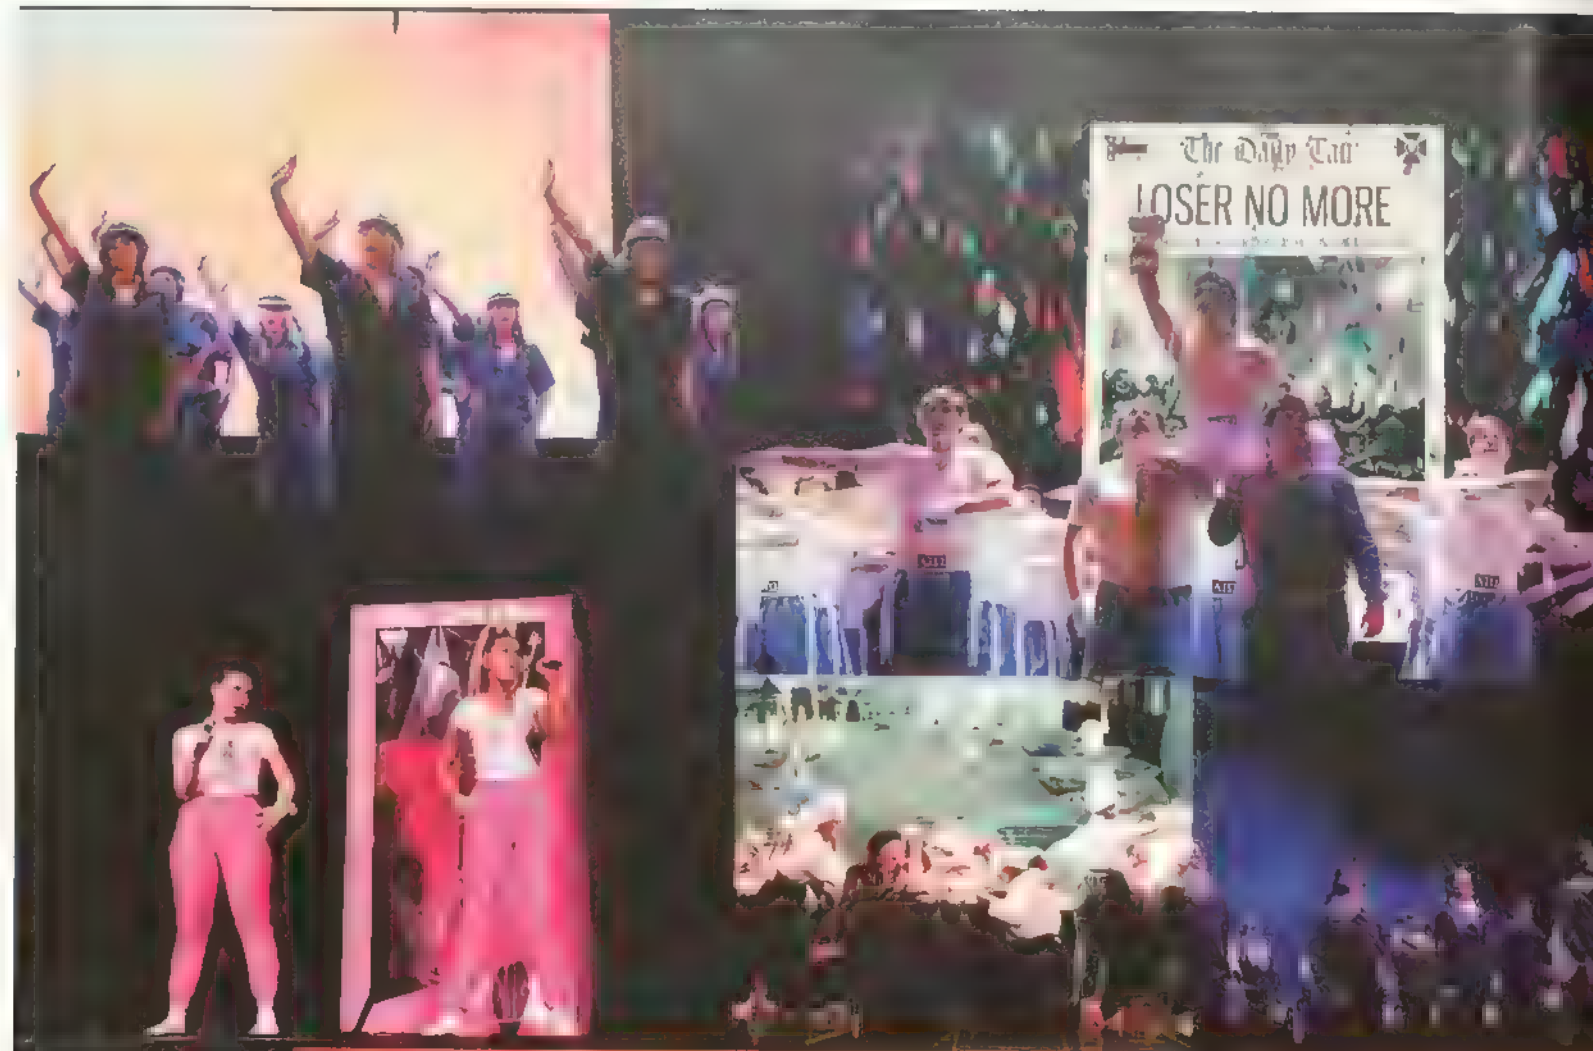

GRADUATE STUDENT SOCIAL WORK ORGANIZATION

The Graduate Student Social Work Organization seeks to serve the students of Social Work through coordinating events, networking, and representing the students to faculty and MSW.

The purpose of the organization is to represent the student body in official interactions with the faculty and administration of the MSW Program. Additionally, the organization strives to facilitate community amongst the cohorts through fellowship and initiating service projects for students and faculty to participate in. In the past year, we have: hosted a study time at O'Henry's Coffee for students; created and facilitated a service project to benefit women and girls in Tanzania, where a faculty member and student are currently residing and working, through purchasing 25 Period Hygiene education kits, planned to attend an Advocacy Day at the end of March where we will meet with legislatures for lobbying purposes.
